Orca Recovery Day - Fun for the Whole Pod!

October 19th, Multiple Locations & Times in the County

You, your friends and your loved ones are welcome at one of several restoration events throughout the county to help the endangered Southern Resident Orca population! More stewards means more salmon, and more salmon means more orcas.

DeCoursey Park & Peck Property, Puyallup, 9am-12pm - Family friendly activities, music and tree planting. Right along a salmon-bearing stream.

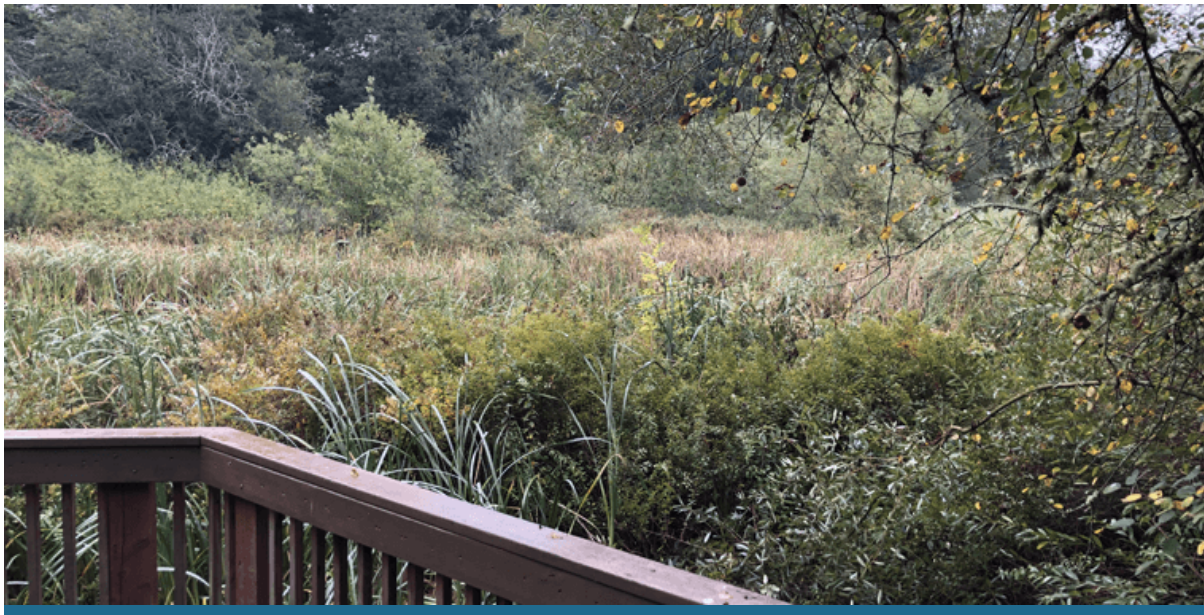

Triangle Depave Planting, Tacoma, 10am-12pm - Planting pollinator-friendly plants in an area that had pavement removed this summer.

South Prairie Creek Preserve, Orting, 9am-12pm - Planting trees and shrubs to enhance salmon habitat. Optional bird walk with an expert at 8 am, as well!

Bradley Lake Work Party, Puyallup, 9am-12pm - Care for existing plants and remove invasive plant species to improve water quality for salmon.

Metro Parks Tacoma and EarthCorps are also offering volunteer opportunities at Titlow Park and Tahoma Salt Marsh. You can learn more about these partner events on the Better Ground website.

Fall Gleaning

Various Times

Various Days

Various Locations throughout Pierce County

Although the seasons are changing, fruit trees and farms are still in peak production. Harvest Pierce County is ramping up our efforts to ensure that no produce goes into the waste stream. Gleaning is the process of harvesting food that would otherwise be wasted, and it's a crucial part of our work. At HPC, we're committed to mitigating this waste by collecting and sharing this fruit with hunger relief organizations throughout the community. By volunteering, you play a vital role in rescuing fresh, nutritious food and ensuring it reaches those who need it most.

Amazing stuff is happening in our community! Although some may wind down with the introduction of fall, PCD only gets busier. There are still ways you can help us create a more resilient county, from attending an Orca Recovery Day event to considering how to prepare your home for wildfire.

We are also happy to welcome back many of our AmeriCorps members back for a second year. They make our programs shine, and we appreciate all of the hard work that they put in, as well as our partnership with Washington Service Corps.

I'm excited for everything that the fall has in store for Pierce Conservation District. I hope you'll consider reaching out and connecting with us this season!

- Executive Director, Dana Coggon.

In the Conservation Community

Sustainable Solutions Weekly Classes - Did you know that Pierce County hosts FREE classes designed to equip you with skills to create a more sustainable community? Harvest Pierce County's edible garden classes are just one part of this effort!

Fall Pruning Workshop - Learn proper pruning techniques for fruit trees and other trees and shrubs in this workshop from Thurston Conservation District.

FirFest - Get a free tree at Whittier Park in Fircrest on November 23rd! There will also be a restoration work party. More about this next month.
