

Resources for Free Woodchips

Landscape & Tree Trimming Companies

Most landscaping and tree trimming businesses are actively looking for people who are interested in free woodchips for delivery or pick-up. Let them know how much material you want, when you want to pick-up or receive a delivery, and what types of tree trimmings are acceptable. It's important to avoid any tree trimmings that may be toxic to your livestock.

Chip Drop

Free app that connects you to arborists looking for local drop sites for woodchips and logs.

Asplundh Tree Expert Company

Asplundh specializes in tree pruning and vegetation management for utilities (including Puget Sound Energy) and government agencies. They will put your name and address on their list of people who are interested in free woodchips. They will contact you when they are working in your area, but this is dependent on current projects they are working on. They may not be able to ensure that you will not receive toxic plants.
